Why Career Education?

Career education is not just about gaining practical skills and securing a job. It's also about setting the foundation for a rewarding and secure future... for yourself, for your family, and for your community.

By 2020, 65% of all jobs will require education beyond high school. And with more than 1,000,000 new "middle-skills" jobs projected to surface by 2025, there has never been a better time to secure a future-ready career education.

Success Ready

The fashion and interior design sector is a sophisticated, multibillion-dollar market offering a wide variety of careers in market research, brand licensing and intellectual property rights, design, materials engineering, product manufacturing, marketing, and distribution. If you are a trendsetter with a flair for the creative, then this might be the industry for you.

Such factors as a global focus on the "Los Angeles lifestyle" as it relates to apparel, textiles, and home furnishings, the increasing use of international sourcing, and the development of new technologies are creating promising opportunities across the industry. According to the California Fashion Association, a particularly high demand exists for preproduction jobs involving computerized pattern-making and product data management for larger companies.
