

AGRICULTURE, WATER, AND ENVIRONMENTAL TECHNOLOGIES

Sustainable Success.

Community college Career Education grads are growing their salaries and sowing the seeds of success in Orange County's fast-evolving agriculture, water, and environmental technology industry.

ORANGE COUNTY
CAREER EDUCATION

Future BUILT

Opportunities Rising

The agriculture, water, and environmental technology industry employs 609,837 people in California, with more than 4,500 positions added each year.

Demand Peaking

Opportunities for soil and plant scientists are expected to grow by 35%—almost five times the national average—by 2022. Meanwhile, sectors like food safety and animal science are facing critical shortages of qualified workers.

Employers Hiring

90% of Orange County career education students in agriculture-related careers reported finding a job within six months of attending!

OC Career Education grads are doing amazing things!

Potential careers include:

- Water Treatment Operator
$64,812–$77,064
- Landscape Manager
$33,641–$40,728
- Garden Center Manager
$23,439–$46,888
- Environmental Engineering Technician
$42,827–$49,927
- Pest Control Technician
$31,192–$34,069
- Animal Care Supervisor
$39,359–$56,704

Start earning more today in a growing industry.

futurebuilt.org