& EARLY CHILDHOOD SERVICES

Caring to the Core.

Caring is a calling. And with a career-focused degree or certificate in Education & Early Childhood Services, Orange County community college students are ready to answer.

With school districts and pre-schools reporting record enrollment, the demand for well-qualified teachers and childcare professionals is critical in California. Last year, there were more than 70,000 job openings for education, child development, and family services related positions in the state...

When you're ready to turn your knack for knowledge into a compassionate career, Orange County's community colleges are ready with an Education & Early Childhood Services program for you.
